Introduction and Welcome

Marion Way

My Dear Nana

Written by Graham's niece, to be read by Marion Way

White wispy hair, not a sign of old age, but the wisdom of life.

A look so stern, so hard enough to make grown men cringe.

A heart filled with the purest gems, yet her love is priceless.

Old and battered hands, show scars of endless help.

A tongue as quick as a serpent, always an answer always right.

Strong like an ox, never wanting to give up.

A wrinkled creased face, one each for those she cherished.

A home, no more than a breezeway, every man and dog welcome.

Absolute devotion to her family, like a soldier defending his country.

Generous to all, with no wealth of her own, except for love.

She was, and always be My Dear Nan.

Mardi's Verse

She knew her life was through. But wasn't scared to die.
She closed her pain filled eyes. Her final breath a sigh.
Her husband took her hand. And whispered welcome dear.
It's been so very long-we won't be parted here.

Fiona's verse

If I should go tomorrow - Anon
If I should go tomorrow
It would never be goodbye,
For I have left my heart with you,
So don't you ever cry.
The love that's deep within me,
Shall reach you from the stars,
You'll feel it from the heavens,
And it will heal the scars.

Kirsty's Verse - Afterglow

I'd like the memory of me to be a happy one.
I'd like to leave an afterglow of smiles when life is done.
I'd like to leave an echo whispering softly down the ways,
Of happy times and laughing times and bright and sunny days.
I'd like the tears of those who grieve, to dry before the sun;
Of happy memories that I leave when life is done.

The Lord's Prayer

Our Father, who art in heaven,
Hallowed be thy Name.
Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth,
As it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread.
And forgive us our trespasses,
As we forgive those who trespass against us.
And lead us not into temptation, But deliver us from evil.
For thine is the kingdom, The power, and the glory,
For ever and ever. Amen
