Verse
“In Rest They Remember It All” by Donna Ashworth
Read by Michelle Guthrie

Some people are slowly taken, to the other realm. Not physically, but mentally. Memory by memory, they are moved from us, like a painstakingly slow house-flit. Boxes full of life, chapters, people, loves. All packed into a van, to wait their arrival on the other side. And as these parts are removed, those left feel further away. As though their love is already leaving them. It is a lonely, painful departure, my friends, this much is sadly true. But I like to think of the person we knew, reaching the other side, finally, once more whole. And upon arrival they see their boxes, awaiting them so long, and they open them up, the chapters, the memories, the loves, and reunite with them again. I can feel that heartfelt joy and it brings me joy too. They are not lost for long, though it may feel so.
In rest, they remember it all.

The Lord’s Prayer
Our Father, who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy Name.
Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses,
As we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation,
But deliver us from evil. For thine is the Kingdom, the Power, and the Glory,
For ever and ever. Amen.

Verse

“Miss Me But Let Me Go” Edgar Albert Guest

Read by Louise Gibbons

When I come to the end of the road and the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom-filled room, Why cry for a soul set free!
Miss me a little - but not for long, and not with your head bowed low. Remember the love that we once shared, miss me, but let me go. For this journey that we all must take and each must go alone; It's all a part of the Master's plan a step on the road to home. When you are lonely and sick at heart go to the friends we know, and bury your sorrows in doing good deeds.
Miss me but let me go.

“Afterglow” Read by Aarlie Olsen

I'd like the memory of me to be a happy one. I'd like to leave an afterglow of smiles when life is done. I'd like to leave an echo whispering softly down the ways, of happy times and laughing times and bright and sunny days.
I'd like the tears of those who grieve, to dry before the sun;
of happy memories that I leave when life is done.
