'The Fallen Limb'

A limb has fallen from the family tree.

I keep hearing a voice that says,

“Grieve not for me.

Remember the best times, the laughter, the song.

The good life I lived while I was strong.

Continue my heritage, I'm counting on you.

Keep smiling and surely the sun will shine through.

My mind is at ease, my soul is at rest.

Remembering all, how I truly was blessed.

Continue traditions, no matter how small.

Go on with your life, don't worry about falls.

I miss you all dearly, so keep up your chin.

Until the day comes we're together again.

An Adaptation - A Poem for My Poppy By Dennis Taylor

To be read by Dee and Zac

Hello there, Poppy. It's us, your little clan,
We couldn't find you yesterday, When we came to visit Nan.
She says you've only left the room, You haven't gone away.
But we really miss you, Poppy and the games we used to play.
She says you have our teddys. They'll keep you safe from harm.
If the going gets hard, just squeeze his hand, and he will keep you calm.
You've also got some lollies. Isn't Nanny kind?
We may have stolen one or two, but we knew you wouldn't mind.
And now that you're not here, Poppy, we'll give double hugs to Nanny.
Goodnight, God bless you, Poppy, From your loving 'littlies'

Conclusion and Committal

An adaptation of 'I'll Be There'

There was no time to say goodbye, but this I ask – please do not cry
Remember me as you think best the happy time – forget the rest.
Look for me and I'll be there, and you will find me everywhere.
Look for me and I'll be there, among tall trees that reach above
In all the things that I once loved, look for me and I'll be there
You'll feel my presence everywhere.

Closing Song 'See You Again' (Wizz Khalifa)
